

STAFF

Music is written on a staff of five lines and four spaces.

The lines on the staff are numbered from bottom to top. If the note is higher on the staff the sound of the pitch is higher.

For piano, the higher pitch sounds appear on the treble staff.

The lower pitch sounds appear on the bass staff.

Together they make what is called the Grand Staff.

MEASURES

Music on the staff is divided up into equal sections called measures, they are divided by vertical lines on the staff. The double lines signify the end of the music.
